Pine Needles

Miss Marcia Ardley of Oakland spent last week here, a guest at Pine Inn. She renewed many old acquaintances.

Last week's Pine Cone had it that Rev. E. Bayard Smith and daughter were going to China. That was an error. It's to Europe they are going. And it might be added, they will return to Carmel.

You are protected by a $10,000 accident bond when you travel in Carmel Garage Stages. We are responsible.—C. O. Gould.

The Friant cottage on San Carlos Highway, always a neat and attractive little place, is undergoing alterations.

Deputy Sheriff Oyer and Assistant District Attorney Warth were here last Saturday on official business.

Herbert Heron returned from the city Sunday night, after a three days' round of the wholesale booksellers' places of business for his holiday stock.

Full line of Geo. Sterling's Poems—Carmel News Co.

The University of California Extension Bureau has completed arrangements whereby Ann Dare, Harriet J. Wilson and Vasia are to give a series of recitals.

Mrs. A. R. Henderson and her daughter are now occupying the Holbrook cottage. The former returned from Gilroy last Sunday much improved in health.

St. Annes Guild will meet at the Rectory tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

F. G. Williams began the work of registering the minors of Sunset School District on Tuesday. All males born on and after November 1, 1898, and all females on or after November 1, 1901, must be enrolled.

The friends of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hollister are rejoicing over the birth of their baby girl. Mother and small daughter are doing nicely; not so small, either—nine and a half pounds.

PLEASURE AND PROFIT

IF YOU are so-situated as to be unable to live in Carmel the year round, you can have a vacation place here. And while you are not here the place may be rented. Buy a lot among the pines or overlooking the sea, and let me put up a comfortable and artistic bungalow for you. Lots will never again be as cheap as right now.

PERCY PARKES

Birney W. Adams and son Floyd are here from Morgan Hill for the winter, occupying the Fullager cottage. Floyd has enrolled in eighth grade of the local school.

T. J. Pilkington and family of Sebastopol, who have been spending a vacation here, have returned home. They are thinking something of locating here.

Winter bedding, all kinds, at Holman's, Pacific Grove.

Miss Stella Guichard leaves for San Francisco tomorrow to select the Christmas goods and novelties for L'Accommodation.

J. W. C. Maxwell, father-in-law of Laura Maxwell, the well-known artist, has gone to Paris Island, South Carolina, to make his home. Years ago Mr. Maxwell was superintendent of the famous New Idria mine.

The number of Carmel housekeepers who have been buying meat outside of town will be increased. The local butcher shop has gone out of business. Lee Daingerfield has bought a shop in Pacific Grove and Hugo Futterer leaves for Germany next Saturday. Mr. Futterer is appreciative for the patronage extended him here.

Jimmy Wilson is driving about like a multi-millionaire; he owns a brand new Ford. How did he get his start? Driving a milk wagon! Carnegie ain't got nothin' on him.

Jaime DeAngulo has filed notice of his intention to prove up on his Big Sur land claim before United States Commissioner Silas W. Mack on December 9.

Mrs. William Johnson, who formerly resided here, and her mother, Mrs. Dryburg, are down from Oakland. They have the Morgan cottage for a few weeks.

Mrs. Frances W. Rekey and daughter Jeannette have returned from South America, and are making their home here just now.

With the taking over by the War Department of the service activities of seven war-time organizations, the Red Cross becomes the only agency for taking care of the various needs and desires of soldiers and sailors in camps and hospitals.

Carmel Girl Married

The marriage of Miss Bonnie Adele Hale and La Von E. Gottfried took place on Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frederick R. Bechdolt. The wedding was a quiet affair, being attended only by members of the family and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. G. Williams, pastor of All Saints Episcopal Church. Miss Grace Wickham attended the bride.

After a honeymoon spent at Redwood Inn, down the Coast, the young couple will leave for Portland, Oregon, where they will reside for the winter. They plan to make their home in San Francisco later on.

The Bechdolt home on the Eighty Acres will be a lonesome place without Bonnie.

WEEKLY GREETING

It is not by the spoliation of some, but by creating larger assets and broader opportunity for all, that national well-being can and must be enhanced.
—Otto H. Kahn.

"DON'T BE A GOOF"

A Chicago doctor, on his way to visit a patient the other day, was splashed with mud by a passing truck. He wiped the mire away with his handkerchief, which was thus removed from active service, and entered a furnishings store to buy a new one. He had plenty of handsome and serviceable handkerchiefs at home. What he wanted was a clean handkerchief for immediate use at a cost of not more than 50 cents.

"I want a clean handkerchief," he said to the clerk.

"Here are some very nice handkerchiefs of a good quality," said the clerk, opening a box.

"Better give me a half dozen," decided the doctor, not asking the price. The handkerchiefs were wrapped up and then he asked:

"How much?"

"Eighteen dollars," said the clerk.

"I was game," said the doctor, telling of the experience afterward. "I paid it."

He was not game. He was a goof. He did not have the nerve to make that clerk unwrap the handkerchiefs and give him one for 50 cents, which was what he really wanted. He was afraid the clerk would think him cheap.

When you let someone tell you what you shall buy and how much you shall pay for it you are giving the strongest kind of aid to the profiteers. So long as people buy regardless of price and regardless of actual needs the profiteers will prosper.

The wise man will now put every cent he can spare in War Savings Stamps and every dollar he can spare in Treasury Savings Certificates. When they mature in 1924 he will find that not only has his money earned 4.27 per cent, but his dollar has increased in value—possibly as much as 100 per cent.

Work on Carmelo Mission Restoration to Begin This Month

For the first time in its history this city has had the distinction of a meeting of a State Commission within its confines.

Last Friday there were held three sessions of the California Historical Survey Commission, two at the City Hall and the third on the Carmelo Mission grounds.

In the absence of John F. Davis, chairman of the commission, the meetings were presided over by Professor Herbert E. Bolton of the history department of the University of California. Dr. Owen E. Coy, archivist of the commission, and Mrs. Frances Rand Smith, architectural investigator, were also in attendance.

Frank H. Powers and Father Joseph M. Gleason were on hand as representatives of the Mission Restoration League. Father R. M. Mestres was the Church representative, and L. S. Slevin and W. L. Overstreet were there for the municipality.

An interesting report was submitted by Mrs. Smith concerning the architectural features of the Mission Carmelo building as it was built under the direction of the Franciscan Fathers.

Director Owen C. Coy made a report embracing all that is authoritatively known of the mission history.

The outstanding achievement of the meeting is the first steps taken officially to determine the lines along which Carmelo Mission shall be restored—the first step in like work to be done eventually in all the California missions, twenty-one in number.

That our mission is to see restoration work begun on Monday, November 24, the 206th anniversary of Padre Junipero Serra's birthday, was announced by Father Mestres, and he stated also that funds aggregating $35,000 would be available for the purpose.

A Good Idea

Plans are afoot for a patriotic community Thanksgiving service at the Forest Theatre on Thursday morning, November 27. The matter is in the hands of Rev. S. D. Hutsinpillar. An exceptionally fine program of music, addresses and singing will be prepared for the occasion. The whole town should turn out.

Monthly Meeting of City Trustees

There wasn't much doing at the City Trustees' meeting Tuesday.

No action could be taken on the matter of work on the three streets petitioned for owing to lack of surveying data. Trustee Kibbler's proposition to pave various streets was lost, because there had been no formal petition from property owners for said improvement.

W. L. Maxwell addressed the board on street work matters, emphasizing the necessity of taking care of the storm water. To his request that Carmelo street between 13th and Santa Lucia avenues be not improved, it was suggested that a petition be filed.

Two ordinances, one providing for the restoration of torn-up streets, the other requiring bonds of operators of common carriers, were given first reading.

On the six months' provision regarding resubmission of proposed street work Attorney Jorgenson gave an opinion to the effect that Ocean avenue comes under the terms of the law.

The board will meet again next Wednesday night.

RED CROSS memberships are not coming in fast enough.
What's wrong? Do not think for a moment it is not needed because the war is over. A year ago the Hun was "getting his" pretty rapid. We were at his front door, or back yard. Then he just quit—quit with no great damage to himself, but leaving behind him fearful, cruel and unnecessary devastation. The Red Cross undertook to pick up, relieve and restore a disheartened and sorely distressed people. We are committed, in all honor, to finish this relief work among the allied nations abroad. We are doing it; but the work has been greatly prolonged by the delay in establishing peace conditions.

Now about home conditions: The greatest number of families of soldiers and sailors helped in any month of the war was 300,000. Six months after the armistice this was increased 53 per cent, or to 469,000.

Let's finish the job and get out with and honorable discharge.

Receptacles Crammed With Fake Securities Represent- ing Wasted Millions.

Washington—If the safety deposit boxes of the United States could give up their dead stores of fake securities, enough wasted money would be disclosed to stagger the imagination.
If a man expects his financial barrel to fill up, he has got to stop up the leaks in it. This is the keynote of a message sent by William Mather Lewis, director of the savings division of the Treasury Department, to the Twelfth District savings directors urging them to impress the wisdom of holding government securities.

"Thousands of people in the United States are losing their hard-earned savings every day because they lack knowledge of financial dealing," continued Mr. Lewis. Untold numbers of fake scheme promoters and regiments of investment sharks, because of this popular ignorance, are pointing out short roads to big fortunes to those whose Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps they hope to secure in exchange for beautifully embossed but absolutely worthless stock certificates.
These fakers know the value of govern securities. They are anxious to get them, for they figure that they will soon be selling at par and above.
"They know that following the Civil War the war issues of government securities soon were above par, and that there is no well-informed person today who does not believe that the Liberty Bonds will sell well above par, long before their maturity.

"But their victims do not know these facts, and so they trade the best securities in the world for some wild-cat that promises a high rate of interest.
What their chances are of getting stung is illustrated by the fact that in Georgia out of 300 applications from a certain type of company to sell stock in that state, only two have been able to meet the requirements under the blue-sky law and were given permits.

"The other 298 are probably operating somewhere where the going is better. If the American people would give to the matter of spending and investment money 10 per cent of the thought they devote to making it, the high cost of living would be greatly decreased. Reckless spending and foolish investment are elements in the present situation which can only be remedied by the rank and file of our people.

"As long as easy money is in evidence, the profiteer and the shark will prosper."

The Wonders of America

By T. T. MAXEY

HELL GATE BRIDGE.

THE completion of the New York Connecting railroad gave us our first all-rail through route from New England, via New York, to the rest of America and a continuous rail line up and down the Atlantic coast from Key West to Halifax. It also calls to mind the fact that the insurmountable obstacle which had heretofore blocked the way had been overcome and the supposedly impossible accomplished.

Before this route could be opened, it was necessary to get trains across that terror to navigators, the rocky-bottomed tidal channel, known as "Hell Gate," between Long Island shore and Ward's Island in the East river, opposite Manhattan Island on which New York city proper stands.

It was not possible to sink piers into the channel, and the stretch was considered too great to be covered by one arched span. An engineer with vision came to the rescue and trains now cross on a wonderful four-tracked steel bridge. A peerless, steel arch, 1-017 feet long, said to be the longest as well as the heaviest ever hung across any waterway of equal width, now bridges the gap. The entire weight is carried by gigantic 250-foot high towers on either shore. The bridge is 98 feet wide, designed to carry 76,000 pounds per linear foot. The extreme height of the arch is more than 300 feet above the water.

About 19,000 tons of steel were used.
The towers are bedded in solid rock, and it is estimated that they contain 3,000,000 cubic feet of masonry. The bridge cost $12,000,000.

OBITUARY

Miss Laura Swift Adams, formerly of Detroit, Michigan, but for some years a resident of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, passed from this to the Higher Life on October 29, after an illness of six weeks.

Miss Adams was born in Connecticut seventy years ago, daughter of Sarah Swift and T. K. Adams. Though she had travelled widely in this and foreign countries, the Central West was the home of her maturity and the roots of her inner life remained inextricably entwined with associations formed in the First Congregational Church of Detroit. From her rich store of memories she often brought forth treasures of friendship and family affection, clinging to the old while every ready to form new ties.

Unwilling to admit the need of rest, Miss Adams pursued her activities in various directions until failing strength compelled their relinquishment.

She was an ardent worker in the Red Cross during the war and evinced a lively interest in both local and world affairs to the last.
Her practical ability and good judgment were early recognized and given full play in church matters, which she directed with eminent dignity and success from her position as presiding officer in the Guild, chairman of the Missionary Society and President of the Woman's Auxiliary.

She was repeatedly discovered going out of her way to do some kindness to others. Here was a life of perpetual loving service.
She gave herself without stint or measure. Her acquaintance was exceptionally wide and all who knew her loved her. She was "Aunt Laura" to numbers of people who could not claim ties of blood but only privileges of friendship, and her heart was big enough for them all. Fearless she confronted the last great change, ready, but not impatient, to lift the curtain of mystery and pass into Eternal Day. To her the beauty of earth and sky, the music of singing pines and ocean surges were a perpetual joy, because she felt them to be hints and promises of Heaven.

Go forth, bright spirit, merry and sweet and brave! Friends await thee: bear to them our greetings and felicitations.

"There is no death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath Is but a suburb of the life elysian, Whose portals we call Death."
